

Clarino™ Recycled Polyester

Taking Kuraray's role as responsible innovator to the next level, it was a logical step to develop a non-woven microfibre collection that focuses on today's demand for sustainability.

Clarino™ recycled polyester range uses an optimal blend of post-consumer fibres to create waterborne suede and coated materials with a luxurious texture and eco-conscious basis. Developed with sustainability at its core, this collection reflects Clarino's commitment to innovation, responsibility, and long-term environmental care.
